Death of a Discipline - Lectures in Critical Theory Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak

For almost three decades, gayatri chakravorty spivak, has been ignoring the standardized rules of the academy and trespassing across disciplinary boundaries today she remains one of the foremost figures in the study of world literature and its cultural consequences in death of a discipline she declares the death of comparative literature as we know it and sounds an urgent call for a new comparative literature in which the discipline is given new life - one that is not appropriated and determined by the market in the era of globalization, when mammoth projects of world literature in translation are being undertaken in the united states, how can we protect the multiplicity of languages and literatures at the university? spivak demonstrates how critics interested in social justice should pay close attention to literary form and offers new interpretations of classics such as joseph conrad's heart of darkness and virginia woolf's a room of one's own through close readings of texts not only in english, french, and german but also in arabic and bengali, she practices what she preaches
